is necessary to prepare and file a Form 5498-ESA for internal transfers within the same CESA.

Note, the IRS reporting rules only require a CESA custodian to furnish a Form 5498-ESA to the designated beneficiary if there has been a reportable contribution. Obviously, a CESA custodian may choose to furnish a CESA statement for customer service reasons to those accounts for which reportable contributions were not made. •

CESA Reminder— April 30, 2008 5498-ESA Filing Deadline

A Coverdell Education Savings Account (CESA) custodian has until June 2, 2008, to file the 2007 Form 5498-ESA, Coverdell ESA Contribution Information, with the IRS for each person for whom a reportable contribution was made.

The CESA custodian is required to furnish a copy of the Form 5498-ESA (or a substitute statement) to the designated beneficiary by April 30, 2008, if the CESA custodian is required to file the 5498-ESA form for such person. This deadline is not May 31, 2008, as it is for IRAs. The reason for the difference is that there is a different time period for correcting excess contributions for CESAs versus IRAs.

As with many IRS instructions, the instructions for Form 5498-ESA are not as clear as they should be. Here is our understanding:

- 1. There is no requirement to file a 2007 Form 5498-ESA for a specific person if there were no 2007 contributions made that would be reported in boxes 1 and 2. Annual contributions are reported in box 1, and rollover and transfer contributions are reported in box 2.
- 2. However, if there were either rollover contributions or transfer contributions from one Coverdell ESA to another Coverdell ESA, then it will be necessary to file a Form 5498-ESA for that person. We at CWF don't believe it

Reminder – IRS Extends Deadline to Amend/Restate Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plans

In September of 2007 the IRS issued news release IR-2007-157 as follows:

WASHINGTON – The Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) announced today that taxpayers will have until Dec. 31, 2008 to bring documents into compliance with the final nonqualified deferred compensation regulations under section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code.

In April, Treasury and IRS issued final 409A regulations, which provided guidance regarding the requirements for deferral elections and payment timing under section 409A. Affected plans and arrangements were required to comply with the final regulations by Dec. 31, 2007. IRS Notice 2007-78 extended the document compliance deadline for one year to December 31, 2008 and provides

Use the Proper Forms for Recharacterizations

With tax season upon us, many individuals will be told by their accountants that, because of income limits, they are not eligible to deduct their traditional IRA contributions made for 2007. That is, they made too much money, and are not allowed to make a deductible contribution to their IRA as they are active participants. The easiest solution to this problem is to recharacterize the contribution to be a Roth IRA contribution instead.

A recharacterization can only be made for 2007, if it is accomplished by the tax-filing deadline of the individual plus six months. The normal tax-filing deadline for most individuals is April 15. Generally, then, an individual has until October 15, 2008, to recharacterize an IRA contribution made for 2007.

It is important to document this recharacterization, so that the custodians of both IRAs are aware of the transaction. CWF has created special forms for this situation.

One form is CWF's Form #54-TR "Notice of Recharacterization of IRA Contribution" is recommended. It collects the following information:

- 1. Type and amount of the contribution to the first IRA that is to be recharacterized.
- 2. The date on which the initial contribution was made.
- A direction to the custodian/trustee of the first IRA to transfer the amount of the contribution, plus the allocable net income, in a trustee-to-trustee transfer to the custodian/trustee of the second IRA.
- 4. The name of the first and second custodian/trustee.
- 5. Acknowledgement by the accountholder, current and successor custodian that they understand the situation and the recharacterization will be handled and reported correctly.

An institution will also want the accountholder to understand the tax issues associated with a recharacterization, and how the individual must handle it on their tax return. CWF Form #56-TREX for 2007 provides this information.

Understanding the Recharacterizing of a 2007 Contribution in 2008

This time of year is the season for recharacterizations. People are visiting their tax accountants. The accountants will be telling some of your accountholders they were ineligible to convert their traditional IRA to a Roth IRA in 2007, or, if eligible to perform the conversion transaction, that it was not in their best interest to have done so. Or, they may tell the accountholder that they were ineligible to make a $4,000/$5,000 contribution to their Roth IRA or that they do not wish to make their contribution to the traditional IRA, as it is non-deductible. The point is you, as an IRA custodian or trustee, can expect to see some of your IRA accountholders instruct you that they want to recharacterize a contribution made in 2007, for 2007, before he or she files a 2007 federal income tax return in 2008. Most such accountholders will normally complete the recharacterization on or before the tax-filing deadline for 2007. This is April 15, 2008. However, a person will have until October 15, 2008, to recharacterize a contribution. A person who timely files his or her 2007 income tax return without having made a recharacterization, may file an amended return and still make the recharacterization within six months of the due date of his or her return. excluding extensions.

This explanation focuses on how you can assist your customer(s) to understand how he or she will need to handle the recharacterization on his or her 2007 income tax return. Recharacterizations are confusing to everyone involved. This is especially true for 2007 contributions which are recharacterized in 2008, because, as with excess contributions, these recharacterization transactions will be reported on the 2008 Form 1099-R and the 2008 Form 5498, which are not furnished until January of 2008 and May 2008. These forms obviously arrive well after the time the accountholder needs the information to file his or her 2007 federal income tax return. This is why the IRS requires an IRA custodian to furnish a written explanation to the accountholder and why the accountholder should attach a note of explanation to their federal income tax return.

Three situations are illustrated: (1) recharacterizing a Roth IRA contribution to be a contribution to a traditional IRA; (2) recharacterizing a contribution to a traditional IRA to be a contribution to a Roth IRA, and (3) recharacterizing a conversion contribution.

Situation #1. Annual Roth IRA Contribution Recharacterized to a Traditional IRA Contribution

Lisa Water made a $4,000 contribution to a Roth IRA on 1-10-07, for 2007. The fair market value of this IRA as of 12-31-07 was $3,100. Lisa is not married, and she is not an active participant in an employer-sponsored plan. Her MAGI for 2008 was $123,000. Therefore, she has determined that she is not eligible to make a contribution to a Roth IRA. There were earnings of $180 related to the contribution of $3,000 as of 3-3-08. One of the methods to correct an excess contribution is to recharacterize it. She chose to recharacterize this contribution, plus earnings, on 3-3-08. Assume the fair market value of this IRA as of 12-31-08 will be $3,400.

Step #1. Accountholder Must Instruct to Recharacterize

The individual must instruct you (the IRA custodian) to recharacterize. The individual is required to furnish you with very specific information. You can make his/her task easier by making available to your accountholder a form such as CWF's "Notice of Recharacterization of IRA Contribution" as set forth on page 5.

Step #2. You (the IRA Custodian) Must Furnish an Explanation to the Accountholder

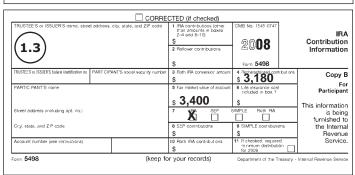

You should furnish an explanation to your accountholder similar to the one on page 5.

Step #3. You Will Prepare the Various Reporting Forms

- 1.1 You will prepare a 2007 Form 5498 to report the original contribution to the Roth IRA of $3,000 as shown and the FMV as of 12-31-07.
- 1.2 You will prepare a 2008 Form 1099-R to report the "deemed" distribution from the Roth IRA to the traditional IRA. It should be reported as follows. Box 1 is to be completed with the gross distribution amount ($3,180) and box 2a is to be completed with a 0.00. The reason code in box 7 is to be an "R" for recharacterization.
- 1.3 You will prepare a 2008 Form 5498 to report the recharacterized contribution (plus earnings) to the tra-

Situation #2. Annual Traditional IRA Contribution Recharacterized to be a Roth IRA Contribution

Sara Roe made a $4,000 contribution to a traditional IRA on 2-10-07, for 2007, rather than a Roth IRA. The fair market value of this traditional IRA was $4,125 as of 12-31-07. Sara is not married. She is an active participant in an employer-sponsored plan. Her MAGI was $92,000. There were earnings of $190 related to the contribution of $4,000 as of 2-20-08. Sara has determined, on 2-20-08, she will recharacterize her traditional IRA contribution to be a Roth IRA contribution, because she is not able to claim a deduction for her $4,000 contribution to the traditional IRA. Assume the fair market value of this IRA as of 12-31-08, will be $4,300.

Step #1. Accountholder Must Instruct to Recharacterize

The individual must instruct you (the IRA custodian) to recharacterize. The individual is required to furnish you with very specific information. You can make his or her task easier by making available to your accountholder a form such as CWF's "Notice of Recharacterization of IRA Contribution" as set forth on page 5, or a similar form.

Step #2. You (IRA Custodian) Must Furnish an Explanation to the Accountholder

You should furnish your accountholder an explanation similar to the one shown in Step #2 of Situation #1.

Step #3. You Will Prepare the Various Reporting Forms

2.1 You will prepare a 2007 Form 5498 to report the original contribution to the traditional IRA of $4,000. It should be reported as shown.

Situation #3. Recharacterizing a Conversion Contribution from a Traditional IRA to a Roth IRA

Francoise Bell converted $30,000 from her traditional IRA to a Roth IRA on 1-15-07. The fair market value of this Roth IRA was $33,000 as of 12-31-07. She is not married. On 3-1-08, her accountant told her she was not eligible to make the Roth IRA conversion contribution for 2007, as her MAGI was $103,000. The related income is $3,900. The recharacterized amount is $33,900. In order to eliminate this excess contribution, she elects to recharacterize this conversion contribution on 3-1-08. Assume the fair market value of the traditional IRA as of 12-31-08 will be $37,000.

Step #1. Accountholder Must Instruct to Recharacterize

The individual must instruct you (the IRA custodian) to recharacterize. The individual is required to furnish you with very specific information. You can make his or her task easier by making available to your accountholder a form such as CWF's "Notice of Recharacterization of IRA Contribution" set forth on page 5 or a similar form.

Step #2. You (IRA Custodian) Must Furnish an Explanation to the Accountholder

You should furnish your accountholder an explanation similar to the one shown in Step #2 of Situation #1.

Step #3. You Will Prepare the Various Reporting Forms

3.1 You will prepare a 2007 Form 5498 to report the original conversion contribution to the Roth IRA of $30,000 as shown.

- 3.2 You will prepare a 2008 Form 1099-R to report the "deemed" distribution from the Roth IRA to the traditional IRA. It should be reported as follows. Box 1 is to be completed with the gross distribution amount ($33,900) and box 2a is to be completed 0.00. The reason code in box 7 is to be an "R" for recharacterization.

Conclusion. You will certainly be receiving requests to recharacterize, in calendar year 2008, a contribution which was made in calendar year 2007. Taxpayers and their accountants are beginning to understand the concept of recharacterizing a contribution as a correction tool. The taxpayer (or accountant) will need to complete the Form 8606 to report the recharacterization. The instructions for the Form 8606 state the taxpayer is to attach a statement explaining the recharacterization. This explanation should indicate the total amount recharacterized, the original contribution, the earnings or loss, and the amount that is now deductible, if applicable. The instructions also indicate that an IRA custodian has the duty to furnish this same information to the accountholder.  $\spadesuit$

Preliminary Tax Data — IRA/Pension Statistics for 2006

IRA and SEP/SIMPLE/Keogh Deductible Contributions

33 billion dollars were contributed to traditional IRAs, SEP-IRAs, SIMPLE-IRAs and Keogh plans for 2006.

Taxpayers made contributions of $20.2 billion to SEP-IRA plans, SIMPLE-IRA plans, and Keogh plans for the 2006 tax year, compared to $19.4 billion for the 2005 tax year. The percentage of increase was 4.1%. In comparison, taxpayers made contributions of $12.8 billion to traditional IRAs for the 2006 tax year, compared to $12.2 billion for the 2005 tax year. The percentage of increase was 5%.

The number of contributors to the SEP/SIMPLE/Keogh plans for 2006 was 1.177 million, compared to 1.197 million for 2005. The number of contributors to traditional IRAs for both 2005 and 2006 was 3.29 million.

The average 2006 SEP/SIMPLE/Keogh contribution, per return, was $17,200.

The average 2006 IRA contribution, per return, was $3,885.

Chart A shows that there has been a substantial change (a 53% increase) in the total contribution amount to SEPs/SIMPLEs/Keoghs over the last six years, and in the average contribution.

Chart B also shows there has been a substantial increase in the total amount of IRA contributions and the average contribution.

CWF Observations

- 1. $20.2 billion is a lot of money. It is 80% more than the amount of IRA contributions of 12.77 billion.
- 2. The average contribution is $17,200.
- 3. 56% of contributions ($11.4 billion) come from individuals with AGI of $200,000 or more.
- 4. 96.3% of contributions (19.4 billion) come from individuals with AGI of more than $50,000.
- 5. The average contributions vary greatly depending on AGI.

CWF Observations

- 1. The average IRA contribution, per return, was $3,855 for 2006.
- 2. 35% of all IRA contributions came from individuals with AGI between $50,000-$99,999.

The Retirement Savings Tax Credit

This credit has now been in existence for 5 years (2002 - 2006). This credit exists to induce individuals with low to moderate incomes to make IRA or 401(k) contributions.

What was the AGI of those who claimed this credit?

	Under $15,000	$15,001 to $29,999	$30,000 to $49,999	$50,000 to $99,999	$100,000 to $199,999	$200,000 Or more	Total

Avg. Credit Amt.	$216	$183	$157	N/A	N/A	N/A	$173

CWF Observations

- 1. Low- to moderate-income taxpayers were able to claim a credit of less than $1 billion.
- 2. The average credit per tax return was $173.
- 3. Note that 5.26 million returns claimed this saver's credit. This is more than the number of returns which showed a traditional IRA contribution (3.34 million). Contributions to a traditional IRA, Roth IRA, 401(k) plan or other elective deferral plan qualify a person for this credit.

Summary. Congress made the 2001 tax-law changes permanent with respect to IRAs and pensions in 2006. The increase in IRA contributions (from 7 billion per year to 12.77 billion per year) and the increase in SEP/SIM-PLE/Keogh contributions (from 10 billion to 20.2 billion) are directly due to the 2001 law changes.

The information set forth above comes from the tax returns of individual, including self-employed individuals. No information has been provided regarding Roth IRA contributions, since they are nondeductible, and are not reported on the tax Form 1040. We would expect that the IRS will be releasing information from the 2006 5498s relatively soon. ◆

Preliminary HSA Tax Data for 2006

The IRS has estimated that there were 351,000 taxpayers who made contributions to HSAs and who claimed tax deductions totalling 845 million dollars for 2006. This means the average contribution per tax return was $2,407.

With respect to tax year 2005 the IRS had estimated that there were 211,766 taxpayers who made contributions to HSAs and who claimed tax deduction totalling 489 million dollars. The average contribution per tax return was $2,309.

Since this data comes from the 1040 tax returns it does not indicate any data for contributions made by corporate employers or deductions by corporations for having made HSA contributions.

For 2006, the maximum HSA contribution was $2,700 for self-only coverage and $5,450 for family coverage. Individuals age 55 or older were eligible to make an additional catch-up contribution of $700.

additional limited transition relief, but does not extend the Jan. 1, 2008, effective date of the final regulations.

Notice 2007-78 also announced that Treasury and the IRS anticipate issuing guidance containing a limited voluntary compliance program that will permit corrections of certain unintentional operation violations of section 409A.

The final regulations were in response to legislation enacted by Congress in 2004 to address concerns involving reported abuses of nonqualified deferred compensation plans. ◆

Proper Forms, Continued from page 2

The income earned on the amount recharacterized may also be transferred with no tax penalty. This is a valuable tax advantage. CWF has created a form to use to calculate the applicable interest on the contribution—Form #67-W.

Of course, the applicable plan agreement must also be completed, if the individual does not already have the correct type of IRA established.

Summary. Recharacterizations are becoming more popular. A financial institution will want to be certain to document these transactions correctly. The forms used must collect the needed information concerning the funds in question, the accountholder, the current IRA custodian/trustee and the successor custodian/trustee. CWF has these special forms available. ◆
